

Daniel Mulock Houwer Coach

As an independent sounding board, I support people to get better equipped to function in their professional and/or daily life. I help them to stay more in tune with who they really are and take life/things (again) into their own hands. Career issues, personal development processes and topics expanding from these are my speciality.

My own business experience, personal development and curiosity as to what makes people tick, enable me to assist professionals who, at a certain moment in their life, start to question themselves about their careers and their lives.

I am convinced that everyone carries their own answers within themselves and is responsible for their own development processes. By helping people to recognise and incorporate this basic principle in their daily lives, by asking basic questions and working, as needed, in either an exploratory or goal oriented manner, I help them to find their own answers, make their own choices and realise their own targets.

Most of my clients have some years of experience in business and work for companies such as Fortis, ABN/AMRO, Boer & Croon, ING en KPMG. My coaching sessions are in Dutch as well as in English and, preferably, I receive clients in my office in Abcoude.

I was born in 1968 in Borneo. After an international youth (Brunei, Turkey, Indonesia, Gabon and The Netherlands), I graduated in Business Economics at the University of Groningen.

Before founding my own training and coaching practice, DMH Company, I worked for almost 10 years in international business. After my national service as an officer with the Royal Netherlands Navy, I worked in the media industry for Nethold (later Canal+). In 1997 I joined MeesPierson Corporate Finance & Capital Markets (CFCM). In various roles (ending up as director CFCM), I advised companies in mergers and acquisitions, initial public offerings and other financial advisory assignments.

In 2000 a personal crisis made me reconsider my career. It initiated a process that led to a career switch from investment banking to training and coaching. Since then, I have built a balanced portfolio of services aimed at strengthening personal leadership. I followed my coaching training with Motivation Management Service Institute (MMS). DMH Company has alliances with Fortis (since 2002), Frits Philips & Partners (FPNP since 2004) and Motivation Management Service Institute (MMS since 2004).
